

A woman with intricate Day of the Dead (Día de los Muertos) makeup is the central focus. Her face is painted white with black and blue designs, including a large black eye mask with orange scalloped edges, black lips with white stitching, and a blue diamond on her chin. She has dark hair and is wearing a large, ornate earring. The background is a wall with a large, stylized rose pattern in shades of red and orange. A wire mesh pendant light hangs above her. In the foreground, there is a blue tufted sofa and several round, dark-colored tables. The overall lighting is warm and atmospheric, with red and orange tones.
